FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

NETPRO™ PRESIDENT, FROM FARMING TO FOOTWEAR?

New Company, New Brand Name & Its “NP KICKERS™” Launching In Las Vegas

Las Vegas: As often happens in the way new products come to market, after years of frustration with not being able to find the perfect “kicking shoe” for his sport of Sepak Takraw (Kick Volleyball), Rick Engel of NETPRO™ Sports Inc., began the research and designing processes that has now led to the launch of NETPRO’s very unique NP KICKERS™. Engel realized that for his shoes to be truly successful, they would have to reach a much wider market than just Sepak Takraw enthusiasts, hence the NP KICKERS™ were designed to also be an ideal shoe for soccer, footbag and any other kicking sports. But that’s not all; the features of these shoes also make them great skate and court shoes ... and they are so comfortable and cool-looking, different than any other shoe out there, that anyone would be happy to wear them just as a casual shoe.

Originally growing up on a farm in southern Saskatchewan, Canada, Rick Engel’s story is a fascinating one, filled with numerous very different career paths, including working in the oil industry, sales, teaching English in China, teaching school in Canada and establishing a provincial non-profit Cultural and a national Sports organization. But each new career experience laid down important foundational building blocks that have enabled him to speak Chinese as a Second Language, help bring a new sport to North America, build a successful sports supply company and enter the world of the shoe industry, launching his NP KICKERS™ at the WSA Show in Las Vegas, February 1 – 4, 2007. Attached is a Flyer that outlines the outstanding features of his shoes. For more information, contact Rick directly on his cellular phone 1-306-533-5589.
